BERLIN, Sept. 19.—German troops are storming the very gates of Kiev and have encircled four Soviet armies within a giant iron ring that stretches 120 miles east of the Ukrainian metropolis, the German high command announced today.

The iron ring was developed from a series of concentric operations by troops under the command of Field Marshal von Rundstedt Vonbok after the Russians vainly attempted a break through between Gomel and the upper and lower reaches of the Desna river, it was stated.

Chancellor Hitler's field headquarters on the eastern front declared that a great "battle of annihilation" had been in progress inside the ring since September 13.

Furious Battle
The Red Army high command, in a terse communiqué, admitted the truth of the German claims regarding Kiev and pictured a furious hand-to-hand struggle outside the key of the Ukraine.

Russian battle lines guarding Kiev the Black Sea port of Odessa and the entire Crimean Peninsula were declared to have been battered and ripped by the German air and land assaults.

A military spokesman said Odessa had been bombed from Wednesday

DISCUSSES "LIGHTS"

Nature treated her earth creatures to one of the most rare and spectacular displays of the Aurora Borealis, or Northern Lights, last night and those who missed seeing it—and they were mighty few—probably missed something that will never be seen again in this generation.

Just what causes this phenomena scientists cannot exactly explain. However, scientists discovered yesterday a cluster of sun spots approximately 140,000 miles in diameter, across the face of the sun, and blame the lights on the unusual radiation brought by these sun spots, which excited the atoms of the sun's rare air, a hundred miles or so above the earth's surface.

It is probable that this radiation was going on all day, as the lights became visible as soon as darkness fell, and they were at their best between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, great streaks of light coming from every direction to converge in a wavering point immediately overhead, where they alternately increased and diminished in a flashing mass of light.

CONTINUES FOR HOURS

The display came on again later in the evening when the same formation was witnessed, the lights varying in color from a phosphorescent greenish glow to purple and rose, and they flashed and flickered as if the heavens were a gigantic jelly bowl which was constantly being disturbed, only the bright stars which shown through remaining in a fixed position.

Many city folks hid themselves to the country, where they could get an undisturbed view of the heavens, while others sought similar locations in the city.

The radiation caused great disturbance in radio, telegraph and telephone service throughout the nation during the day, and the great press associations' network of wires over the country were down spasmodically. Short-wave radio communication to and from Europe, the London, Sept. 19.—Grave apprehension over a possible Russo-German war unless tremendous war supplies reach the U.S.S.R. with utmost speed was felt by the British government.

The British cabinet saw the possibility of such an end to the titanic eastern front conflict unless the United States and Britain pour "terrific quantities" of material into Russia.

Unless a veritable flood of equipment reaches Russia by spring, a spokesman for the cabinet said, Chancellor Hitler may "eliminate the eastern battle front either militarily or by political compromise."

Possibility of a Russian collapse was frankly admitted as reports to London showed the Germans smashing into the Crimea, menacing Leningrad and Murmansk and advancing on the central sector of the front.

Nevertheless, the spokesman expressed the view that the Russians will be able to hold out for the winter.

"Only fierce Slav hatred for the Germans stands between their being mechanically mauled into a compromise peace, unless the western world supplies the Russians with sufficient material to maintain the long front," the cabinet representative said.

Describing the decision in Russia as hanging in the balance with victory possible for either side and predicting another Hitler "peace offensive" in the east, the spokesman added:

"The whole history of the world depends on the outcome of this battle."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Overwhelming congressional sentiment today pointed to passage of President Roosevelt's new $5,985,000,000 lease-lease request "with little trouble" by the end of the month.

A group of strong non-interventionists in the house, however, gave notice that they will carefully scrutinize details of the high spending bill and some indicated they may fight it down the line and thus delay final action.

Moving to speed a showdown on the matter, Rep. Cannon (D) Mo., new chairman of the powerful house appropriations committee today called an executive session of his group to plan future action.

"Last night's display of the aurora borealis was the prettiest demonstration in this district during the 22 years that I've been here," said Dr. James A. Swindler, head of the physics department of Westminster college, when asked about last night's sky phenomenon.

The usual explanation given is that magnetic discharges from the sun spots on the sun cause particles to shoot out from the surface of the sun. When these particles reach the upper atmosphere of the earth, they cause ionization of the gases, which in turn results in the various-colored streaks observed in the heavens last night.

DR. J. A. SWINDLER DISCUSSES "LIGHTS"

Rep. Engel (R) Mich., a member of the committee, however, sided with the group taking a contrary view.

"We will start hearings early next week with department heads as witnesses and should complete our work in a week," Cannon said. "After that it will be up to the house, but I don't anticipate any trouble. The general feeling seems to be that congress has adopted the lend-lease policy of aid to democracies and that it is now up to us to provide the means of carrying it through."

Rep. Engel (R) Mich., a member of the committee, however, sided with the group taking a contrary view.

"The way I feel now, I will oppose the request," he declared. "They've certainly got to show me why this money is needed at this time. They haven't nearly paid up the $7,000,000 already given them for the lease-lease program, and factories cannot possibly produce in less than 18 months what already has been ordered."

Lewis Threatens New Coal Strike

Lewis To Force Demand For Union Shop Contract In Captive Mines

CONTROVERSY BEFORE MEDIATION BOARD

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—To enforce his demand for union shop contract in the "captive mines" of the nation, John L. Lewis, president of the CIO-United Mine Workers, threatened today to halt operations in every bituminous mine in the country.

The mine chieftain sent a form letter to signatories of the Appalachian pact, announcing that he was reserving the right to invoke the "protective wage clause" of the agreement negotiated earlier this year "at will."

In essence, this clause empowers the union president to strike any and all bituminous mines under contract to force standard wages and working conditions at other mines. Refuses Comment

B. H. Cannon, secretary-treasurer of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association who received one of the Lewis letters, refused to comment pending discussion with other officials of his organization. The letter warned:

"The United Mine Workers of America hope that it will not be necessary to bring the commercial production of the Appalachian area into the captive mine controversy but are reserving all rights to do so when necessary to preserve the integrity of the contract."

The UMWA called out its members in the "captive" mines last week and as the steel company-operators refused its demand for a union shop contract. The captive mines supply coal only for their operators. The controversy has been taken over by the mediation board.

BERLIN CLAIMS NAZI TROOPS ARE STORMING KIEV

evening to yesterday morning in one of the greatest blitz air raids of the war, and that Moscow also suffered heavily from bombs during the same period.

In addition, it was claimed a Soviet destroyer of the Leningrad class had been sunk in the Black Sea and that a 5,000-ton transport and 1,000-ton supply vessel were severely damaged.

Claim Eight Ships Hit

Destruction of the Leningrad class destroyer brought to eight the total of Soviet naval ships reported sunk or damaged in 24 hours of intense activity. Twenty merchant vessels were sent to the bottom or damaged during the same time, authorities said.

Among these were 11 transport vessels stated to have been sunk or damaged in Lake Ladoga, and a 3,000-ton merchant ship was sunk in the Black Sea.

Hundreds of tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs that rained on Odessa were declared to have turned the seaport's harbor facilities into a flaming ruin.

German observers reported numerous explosions along the city's warehouses and wharves and great fires elsewhere in the city.

Details of the night air raid on Moscow were not given, but German authorities said 69 Russian planes were shot down while only four German bombers were listed as missing.

On the southern front, the spokesman said, there were reports of a developing Nazi offensive east of the Dnieper river which was regarded as a threat to the Crimea.

On the opposite, or northern sector of the front, it was claimed, the inhabitants of Leningrad are now faced with starvation.

Following the battle at Gomel, strong German forces were said to have crossed the Upper and Lower Desna and to have advanced southward where they joined troops who crossed the Dnieper river near Kremenchuk.

This joint force then pushed northward, Chancellor Hitler's headquarters said, thus closing the ring to do their bit of sky gazing.

Along East Washington street, it can be seen that employees of the Bell Telephone Company are at work overhauling and adjusting their cables in conduits beneath the street. The open manholes are encircled with guards, and signs and red flags displayed to warn traffic.

Charles Grieder, of R. D. 3, Putlaski road, advised PA New, that amid his collection of eggs, a couple of mornings ago, he found a triple-yolked egg. Mr. Grieder has a large pen of chickens.

Wonder how many stiff necks were there this morning from looking up at the phenomenon in the heavens Thursday night, commencing about 7:30. The Aurora Borealis was certainly a glorious sight. Folks on the East Side scurried from place to place seeking new vantage points to view it.

Sunburn "backslapping" is a thing of the past, but "craned necks" are a thing of the present, as evidenced by a score of people today who stood with awe and watched the northern lights in the skies last evening for a long period.

Overnight, the president and his aides, while en route to Hyde Park, had no confirmation of a London Express dispatch that the U. S. Navy had accounted for an axis raider.

The $3,553,400,000 tax bill—which will bring in single men with an income of $800 and married men of $1,500—is designed to defray a portion of the cost of "all-out" defense of the western hemisphere.

Asks Billions More

Yesterday, the president called on Congress for six billion dollars more—$9,985,000,000 to be exact—to rush further aid to Great Britain and her allies in the way of planes, ships, tanks, guns, ammunition and food. Most of the first seven billions he asserted, already has been allocated.

This urgent request for more lend-lease funds on top of the original seven billion dollar appropriation was designed to impress on the nation that the Washington government still is engaged in every effort to defeat Hitlerism.

Special wires were strung into Hyde Park to keep the president abreast of "shoot first" developments on the high seas.

NEW LEND-LEASE FUND FAVORED

There were many and varied explanations offered by those who professed to know, but yet didn't. Even Adolf Hitler got his full share of blame.

According to District Manager P. J. Baldwin of the Bell Telephone company, the display seemingly was first noticed here about 7:35 o'clock, as the entire switchboard at the phone office went red when folks picked up their phones to call friends and relatives and tell them of the display. The peak load lasted until about 8 o'clock, after which it died away, but the load all evening was heavier than usual, the same condition prevailing over the entire Beaver and Shenango Valley embayed by the local district.

BURCKART MATHIS WEDDING IN CHURCH

At 10:30 this morning in St. John's Lutheran church, Miss Marylou Shilling Burkart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albert Burkart of Clemmore boulevard, was married to Frederick Clifford Mathis, Ensign U. S. Naval reserve, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Alvin Mathis of New Brighton, Pa.

Before the altar, which was decorated with a large bouquet of white fall flowers and palms, Rev. J. H. Miller performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride wore a Hudson brown wool costume suit, with hat trimmed in light smoke-blue feathers, to match. Her corsage was of orchids.

Following the ceremony, members of the family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burkart for the wedding breakfast at the New Castle Field club. The bridal table, featuring the bride's cake, was decorated with a centerpiece of autumn flowers in shades of yellow.

The young couple left later for the Naval Base at Great Lakes, Ill., where Ensign Mathis is stationed, and near which they will make their home.

The bride is a graduate of Greenbrier college for women; both Ensign and Mrs. Mathis are graduates of Grove City College. For the past three months Ensign Mathis has been taking special courses at Harvard university, Cambridge, Mass.

Present for the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Mathis, John Mathis and Victor Mathis of New Brighton, Pa.; Mrs. J. Frank Harper and Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Harper of Coraopolis, Pa.

DISCOVERING THE BURMA ROAD

TO most persons the Burma Road is a remote, romantic abstraction. Japan bombs it from time to time and across it goes lease-lend aid to China. That has been about the extent of the average American's knowledge.

The government at Washington was not much better informed, but it knew that traffic on this most famous and vital road was moving at a slow pace. Therefore, out to China it sent a former Chicago tax driver, David Arnstein, now head of a taxicab fleet and an expert in truck transportation. After three months there Mr. Arnstein has just returned home to report his findings.

The Burma Road is no machine-made product, but the work of Chinese hands, some 400,000 of them. It has a rock surface. It is 700 miles in length, and if a truck got through in a month, that was all right to the Chinese, whose operational methods are haphazard. There were no dispatching systems, no maintenance facilities, no patrol, no communications. A dozen different taxes of provincial agencies often held up a truck for as long as ten days.

There were no gasoline depots and trucks had to carry enough gasoline for the 1,400-mile return trip, thus cutting down its load. No mechanics, no spare parts, no gasoline stations on the entire route, Mr. Arnstein said, but as an engineering feat it was none the less superb.

These defects are being remedied under recommendations of Mr. Arnstein and other American experts. The Rockefeller Foundation is beginning to control the malaria. There are now about 1,500 trucks operating, but 5,000 new ones are beginning to arrive under the Lease-Lend Act.

As to Japanese bombings, on the Burma Road the American experts saw thousands of Chinese coolies—men, women, and children—waiting to move in with their baskets to fill up bomb craters and repair other damage.

POLISH GOLD

In New York last week Supreme Court Justice Pecora granted the Central Bank of Poland a writ of attachment for $64,000,000 on the billion dollars of French gold frozen in the United States. Financial Counsellor Zoltowski, Polish official, explains the ground for the legal action.

When Poland was set upon by Hitler it had $90,000,000 gold. It rushed $20,000,000 of this to England and the United States. Later it sent $3,000,000 more to England and the United States and $3,000,000 to Rumania. The remainder—$64,000,000—it sent to France.

As Hitler advanced on Paris, France sent a great hoard of gold over to Dakar, in Africa, and in that hoard was Poland's $64,000,000. When the British fleet attacked Dakar it was after that gold. The French, fearful of losing it, sent it inland 400 miles to the town of Cayes. From that point, under German pressure, the Vichy government took the gold back to France and turned it over to the German authorities.

Mr. Zoltowski says that Poland did not consent to France's shipment of its gold to Dakar and therefore has a legal right to a rebate of that much gold from earmarked French holdings in the United States. Whether the Polish claim, if sustained, will ever amount to anything is problematical. The United States government has a claim against France arising from World War debts that will more than absorb the billion dollars of frozen French gold in the U.S.

DABBING IN WHEAT

From Chicago comes the news that the public is again getting back into the wheat market. That means that people of a speculative turn again are "playing" the market despite the high margins on futures now required.

Usually the public, when it dabbles in wheat, is a bull. It is reported that this time the professional operators are also taking the bull side, with their usual sales for profit-taking intervening, of course.

Late in 1916 and early in 1917 fortunes were made by the more daring speculators in the wheat market. A rise of twenty cents a bushel in a day was not uncommon, and margin requirements in those days were almost infinitesimal. Nothing like that has happened in this war, nor is it likely to happen.

Helping out in the current moderate ascension of prices are listed mill buying, inflation talk, limited hedging sales and holding back of wheat for sale by farmers.

In addition to these factors is an expectation among traders that the Far East soon may ask for wheat, although Russia, if it takes wheat, will probably get its supplies from Canada instead of from the United States.

Meanwhile, there is not likely to be a runaway wheat market because speculators are keeping an eye on the government at Washington, wondering how much wheat will go into loans and when the government will drop some of its wheat holdings into the market to hold back the price.

It is estimated that 400,000 bushels of the 1941 harvest will be pledged to the government, which already owns outright 200,000,000 bushels that can be dumped on the market, at any time. Before this war ends there may be a world-wide scarcity of wheat, with prices at a commensurate level, but the fact is that as of today there is still a great surplus of the cereal.

Few people any longer, even the New Dealers, mention the once famous Forgotten Man. We don't know who he is, but certainly he isn't the taxpayer, who is mentioned in every New Deal statesman's program. Maybe the Forgotten Man is the small business man.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

BRIGHTEST CHILD MAY WRITE POORLY

In the modern school, the child in the first two or three grades uses a modified form of print. It is called manuscript writing. Many children learn at play to print before they enter school. The words they read and spell at school are in print. As they write the words which they spell they write these words in practically the same form in which they see them in the book.

Very rarely is a child reported to his parents as unsatisfactory in handwriting until about the fourth or fifth grade. By this time he must write words as he spells, and various compositions and reports. His teacher must read what he writes. If it is untidy or illegible, she naturally rates the child low in penmanship.

Unless a way is found to help the child improve his penmanship, he will be handicapped all through his school life. There does not seem to be much relation between the child's degree of brightness and his handwriting. Some of the brightest children write most illegibly. Nevertheless, poor penmanship always is a serious handicap to the student. On his account his written work, especially that on tests, is rated lower than it otherwise would be in the fifth grade, high school or college.

Time Needed

In the first place, the child at school should be expected to write with a fair degree of legibility, especially when he has all the time he needs in which to do the writing.

It is doubtful whether any child should have to hurry as he writes. Most such dictation should be at half the prevailing speed.

Rarely does it do any good to ridicule or scold the child or youth for his poor penmanship. He needs first to be allowed and encouraged to write more slowly and carefully, but not bothered about any special form or movement. The poor writer is about the last one to profit from arm movement exercises at making ovals and the like. He needs to work to make it neat and legible.

Some children and youths grow more careless in penmanship as teachers and parents talk more about their miserable writing. Indeed, some college students seem to suppose that hard-to-read handwriting is a mark of distinction.

Practically every person at any school age can learn to write fairly legibly. The main problem is to induce him to want to write legibly.

The home can help. A good way is to prevail upon the poor penman, be he 10, 15 or 20, to practice for 15 or 20 minutes every day from good copy like that in the old copy book.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Should parents compel an older child to take a much younger brother or sister with him nearly wherever he goes?

A. No; rather they should forbid the younger one to be a tag-a-long. The tag-a-long is certainly a pest when the older child is in his early teens.

What Noted People Say

NEW YORK — Senator Charles H. Percy, New Hampshire Republican, scoffs at the idea of Chancellor Hitler ever invading the United States:

"Each new conquest—each new country he invades—only weakens him and hastens his downfall. He cannot turn his back on the people of Europe and Russia and seriously threaten the United States either militarily or economically."

LONDON—Leslie Hore-Belisha, former British war minister, urges Britain to seek a common citizenship with America:

"If we can replace the Declaration of Independence with a declaration of inter-dependence, it should lay the firmest foundation for permanent world peace."

OTTAWA—American Under-Secretary of Commerce Wayne C. Taylor points out that total war means either total finance:

"No country can escape its impact: no individual can hope to evade his contribution. Those who can contribute the least physically, can and should contribute the most financially."

NEW YORK—Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee, places the blame for the present European war:

"It was our failure for 23 years to play the part America should have played in world affairs that contributed to the present chaos in Europe."

What to do when someone becomes violently, suddenly ill?

This is a most frightening, agonizing moment for relatives.

In sudden illness unconsciousness is most feared by the family.

As long as he can talk, the sufferer seems in no great danger.

Unconsciousness may come with stroke or apoplexy and epilepsy.

It may be due to electric shock or diabetic coma.

Other emergencies include stomach, heart or lung conditions.

Hemorrhage from stomach or intestines is a common emergency.

Caused often by an ulcer perforating into a blood vessel.

Reduced blood supply to heart muscle brings on coronary heart disease.

Chest pains are early symptoms of pneumonia.

All such emergencies call for intelligent treatment by a physician.

You'll never believe this but it's gospel truth. During a long dry spell in upper New York state, residents of a small hamlet turned out en masse to pray for rain. Only one man, a farmer, failed to attend the praying party. After the prayers a violent thunder storm swept down upon the village and everyone was jubilant except the scoffers whose barn was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

The story might have ended there but it didn't. He sued the city for damages claiming the lightning came as a part of the rain which, he declared, was brought about by the prayers.

Attorneys representing the town in defending the suit, put 40 witnesses on the stand to testify that no lightning had been asked for in their prayers and that any such disturbance was "an act of God". The jury granted the damages and told him to collect from God.

AYERS-LEWIS HOME WEDDING IMPRESSIVE

Most impressive and beautiful in every detail, was the wedding ceremony which took place Thursday evening, September 18, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ayers of 1106 West Washington street, when their daughter, Anna, became the bride of Clyde Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lewis, of Ellwood avenue, Ellwood City, the vows being exchanged in the presence of a gathering of guests numbering upwards of a hundred.

Before an improvised altar of palms, ferns and an array of fall flowers in clever arrangement, the wedding party stood, where the Rev. Kenneth C. Knight, of Natrona Heights, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a cousin of the bridegroom, officiated. He used the single ring service with the vows were exchanged at 7 o'clock.

For her marriage, the bride chose a soldier blue sheer wool, street length dress with wine accessories, and a shoulder corsage to harmonize, made up of red rose buds. Miss Gladys Reed of this city was her only attendant, and she was attired in a black velvet street length dress and matching accompaniments, complimented with shoulderette of yellow rose buds.

Stanley Krause of Ellwood City, served as best man.

Added further to the impressiveness of the occasion, nuptial music was contributed by Mrs. Carl Wallace, preceding and during the ceremony. She accompanied Mrs. Earl Pearsall, soloist, who sang "O' Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly".

Preceding the wedding, a supper was served in honor of the principals, to members of the immediate families and guests, numbering thirty-five. Aiding Mrs. Ayers with the menu, were Mrs. Bessie Frazier, Mrs. Florence Gordon, Mrs. Rilla Rishel, Mrs. Helen Colbert and Mrs. Clare Montgomery.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis departed on an extended motor trip to Cleveland, O., Detroit, Michigan, Niagara Falls, Washington D. C., and other points of interest. Upon returning, they will take up residence for the present, at the Lewis home in Ellwood City, later going to housekeeping.

To Probe Priorities Effect On State Industry

Governor Will Make Survey

Fear Many Industries To Be Handicapped By Priorities System

MANY PLANTS NOT ON DEFENSE ORDERS

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19.—Gov. Arthur H. James has launched an investigation to determine the seriousness of the situation confronting hundreds of Pennsylvania industries which may be forced to close down or curtail production due to the national defense program.

Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James was directed to make a survey of the state and determine to what extent national priority control has affected non-defense industries. The commerce secretary conferred with the governor on the subject earlier this week.

State Officials Perturbed
State officials are frankly perturbed by reports that numerous industries, principally those which do not have defense orders, face a possibly serious situation during the oncoming fall and winter due to their inability to obtain the materials they need for continued production. Vital materials necessary to the defense program are being allocated principally to industries with defense orders by the federal priority control office at Washington.

It was pointed out that most of the industries in the state, as elsewhere in the nation, do not have defense orders and thus face the prospect of being forced in the near future to either curtail production or close down entirely, thus throwing numerous workers out of employment.

Officials of the department of public assistance said they were aware of the serious situation which may result and admitted they foresaw the possibility of "priority unemployment" during the winter months. A sharp check is now being kept of persons forced on relief through priority control.

Allan F. Jones, assistant chief construction engineer of the state's purchasing bureau in whose hands state priority control is vested, expressed the opinion that non-defense industries in the state were "out of luck." "I suppose they'll have to close down eventually or curtail their work," he stated.

Difficult Situation
Jones said the state was finding it increasingly difficult to fill its own orders for supplies. Metal materials are practically unavailable, he stated, and paper supplies must be ordered three months in advance. A special preference rating has been obtained from the federal priority control office, however, to enable state to keep up repairs on state buildings and to fill emergency inventories. Commerce officials said that pending completion of the investigation launched by the governor, no accurate estimate could be made of the number of industries affected by priority control. However, several silk throwing mills, where silk is spun into thread, have already closed down; it was stated, as a result of the freezing of Japanese credits and the placing of silk under full priority control.

Plants using wool are also experiencing difficulty, it was stated, unless they are filling defense orders as are a great many non-defense factories which employ metal products in their work. Plants making aluminum pots and pans were also reported as closing down or on the verge of doing so, due to the inability to procure aluminum for purely civilian products. A western Pennsylvania concern making talons was also reported in difficulty because of its inability to secure the metal it needed.

"The situation is decidedly threatening," said a commerce department spokesman.

Typhoid killed 36 annually out of each 100,000 forty years ago, according to Census records. This has now been reduced to 2.

State Will Probe Charges Of Fraud

BALLOT CONTRACT.

Miller, Pyle and Street were awarded the contract for printing approximately 55,000 ballots for the November election at their bid of $8.10 per thousand on Tuesday morning.

The only other bid was that of the Brindle Printing Company at a price of $12.25 per thousand.

FAIL TO RETURN VERDICTS.

Something of a record for hung juries was established in the last two cases tried in the September term of court, both of them reporting to the court that they could not agree and being discharged.

The first case to report a disagreement was that against John Saechar charged with involuntary manslaughter. After being out from 10:45 Wednesday morning until eleven o'clock Wednesday night the jury disagreed and Judge W. Walter Brigham discharged the jurors.

The vote stood eleven to one for conviction it is said and the one dissenting juror explained that religious scruples prevented a conviction. The juror explained that religious convictions prohibited convicting anybody. These convictions should have been explained to the court before the juror was ever accepted, it is stated.

In the case against Fred Bell, charged with rape the jury was out all night and this morning asked Judge Charles Matthews, Jr., to give them a resume of his charge. This he refused to do but answered several questions. The jury retired again but shortly reported they could not agree and were discharged.

The vote was ten to two for conviction.

COURT HOUSE NOTES.

For many years the position of county surveyor has been more or less of a joke. In some elections the boys down at the corner or over at the pool room have gotten together, fixed it up to write the name of Joe Doax in on the ballot and Joe Doax was duly elected. Probably Joe wouldn't know a transit from a plate of stewed tripe but he was elected. Of course he never served because there was nothing to do.

This year the county commissioners believed it would be a good idea to use the county surveyor as the county engineer and have him prepare plans when needed and to supervise any engineering that would be done.

Two engineers were asked to file petitions. W. Leslie Wilson on the Republican ticket and H. L. Stewart upon the Democratic ticket. Both are registered engineers.

SOLDIER VOTE.

If you have a son, nephew, or a friend who is in the military service and is over 21 years of age you can get him an opportunity to vote at the November election if you will notify him immediately.

Under the law, any man or woman, over 21 who is in the military service is entitled to vote if he or she notifies the election board three days before the election.

As a suggestion, write a letter to your service man today. Have him in turn write to the county commissioners of Lawrence county asking that a ballot be sent him. Have him give his address and if possible the precinct in which he votes and his party registration. Also be sure to have him send the address where he is located. For example, Private John Doe, Company F, 100th Regiment, Infantry, Camp Whoosis, Georgia. If his request is in the office here by October 4, a ballot will be sent him. The ballot must be returned within ten days after the election.

Say Windsors Plan Another Trip To States

May Stop Off At Washington On Trip To Duke's Canadian Ranch

WILL BE LATE IN SEPTEMBER

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor soon may be in the spotlight again.

Reports are circulating that late in September the former king, who gave up the British throne to marry "the woman I love," is planning a visit to his ranch in Canada, which is located about 50 miles south of Calgary.

The royal couple, it is said, probably will go from Nassau, the Bahamas, where they now live, to Miami and thence by train to Canada by way of Chicago. No itinerary has been announced, however. On their way back home, according to the reports, they may stop off at Washington.

A visit of the duke and duchess to Washington would create a social stir. The social lights of the nation's capital would, of course, want to get a close-up of the famous American woman whose romance with the then King Edward VIII thrilled the world. And, no doubt, they would be guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House.

The duchess, who once lived in Washington, would certainly like to visit again.

Would Enjoy Stay In U. S.

Both the duke and duchess would enjoy nothing better than a real stay in the U. S. A., in the opinion of their close friends. I recall covering the visit to the duke and duchess to Miami last December when the duchess had an infected tooth treated and how elated both of them were over the royal welcome given them by Americans. There were tears in the duchess' eyes as the Duke pulled out of Miami for the Bahamas.

I recall, too, how the Duke took occasion on this visit to fly out to sea to visit President Roosevelt on board ship off the Florida coast and how "pepped up" he was upon his return when he talked to us newspapermen. His chat with the President lifted his spirits tremendously.

The Duke has been handling himself well since he came to the Bahamas, a little over a year ago to act as governor of those small British islands. Many Americans, who remembered Edward from years back as the likeable young Prince of Wales, wondered how he would react to his new duties.

Devoted Couple
The Duke and duchess are a happy, devoted couple. The love between them is expressed in every word they address to each other, in

Court Hears Story Of Spy Activities

Claim Clever German Secured Access To American Military Secrets

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The story of how Frederick J. Duquesne, veteran German spy, cleverly gained access to American army and navy secrets was unfolded in Brooklyn federal court Thursday.

Testimony at the trial of 16 alleged Nazi espionage agents disclosed that Duquesne, leader of the spy ring, had obtained plans for an anti-tank device, photographs of a navy speedboat, and plans for army tanks.

Plans for a new secret gas shell, it was revealed, were stolen when Duquesne gained entrance to the DuPont plant in Wilmington, spent eight hours inside, and photographed the shell in detail.

Disclosure of Duquesne's activities was made by William G. Friedman, one of the F. B. I. agents who spent two years in tracking down the giant spy ring—a hunt that resulted in the arrest of 33 persons, 17 of whom have confessed.

Duquesne's espionage plans, Friedman charged, not only called for the stealing of American defense secrets, but the plotting of sabotage as well. Duquesne was said to have started several New York dock fires.

The arrest of the 63-year-old spy leader, and his aides, was made a few days after it was learned that Duquesne had made plans to blow up the machinery of the Schenectady plant of the General Electric company.

Seek To Speed Up Scrapping Autos

State Would Eliminate Auto "Graveyards" To Aid Scrap Iron Supply

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 19.—The office of production management was prepared today to grant priorities to automobile "graveyard" operators for acetylene torch equipment to speed scrapping of derelict automobiles.

At a meeting attended by more than 200 operators, Alex Miller, scrap consultant for the iron and steel branch of O.P.M., asserted that "unless the flow of scrap iron and steel to the country's steel mills and foundries is greatly accelerated before winter, there is danger of a curtailment in steel production during the winter months."

Miller said scraped derelict cars would yield about one ton of metal and that it was the O.P.M.'s goal to "have automobile wreckers increase their salvaging from the normal 2,500,000 cars a year to at least 3,500,000 cars."

Martin Attacks National Policy

Assails "Death Sentence" Passed On Small Business Of Nation

(International News Service) ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 19.—"Reckless" non-defense spending and the "death sentence" passed on small business were attacked today by Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., chairman of the Republican committee, in an address at a G. O. P. rally here.

Martin also asserted that "the balanced constitutional government of a strong executive and independent legislative branch, and a free judiciary threatens soon to be only a memory."

The national Republican leader spoke at a dinner last night in honor of State Chairman James F. Torrance of Westmoreland county. Numerous state dignitaries, including Gov. Arthur H. James, also attended and addressed the rally.

Martin declared that "private enterprise, the foundation of which has been steadily undermined in the past nine years, is face to face with grave danger of extinction."

He added:

"We shall be faced with a bankrupt industrial structure, ready to be seized by reckless social experimenters. If we allow the thousands of small businesses in the United States to be wiped out because of failure to be taken into the national defense picture and denied all consideration in the granting of priorities."

The congressional leader asserted that there was only one way to call a halt to non-defense spending, and that was by "an aroused public insisting it shall be done." As to the defense program itself, he said "spending must go on as long as it is required to build an impregnable national defense."

Torrance, in his response, said the James administration had trimmed the deficit inherited from the preceding Earl's administration from $71,500,000 to $24,000,000. He predicted that 1943 would bring Pennsylvania if present trends continue, a balanced budget, and "possibly a surplus."

R. A. F. Pilots Hit German Objectives

Former Vice Consul 'At Hamburg Says Aim Of Britons Is Good

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS—British bombs are dropping on Germany "more frequently and are better aimed," Sabine J. Dalfers, United States vice-consul at Hamburg, Germany, from 1928 until the Nazis ousted him last July 7, declared in New Orleans.

"I am not permitted to reveal the extent of damage," he said, "but I can assure you the RAF pilots are hitting objectives."

A veteran of many bombing raids, Mr. Dalfers related, "When you hear 20 or 30 bombers going over and don't know what size bomb is going to drop near you—it gets you. You don't have to be a coward to become frightened," he said.

Explaining that he developed a fatalistic attitude about bombs, Mr. Dalfers said "I never once ran for a cellar during a raid. I just stayed in bed and pulled up the covers."

Marching Drills Part Of Athletic Classes At School

Basketball And Track Teams Will Be Organized At Mahonington School

Rees Flannery, athletic instructor at Mahonington school has added a new idea to the daily outdoor gym classes at the school. Each class begins its program with a short period of marching drills.

Mr. Flannery believes that the drills will accustom the students to working together and by obeying the marching commands be always on the alert. In addition to this the drills are a healthful activity.

According to Mr. Flannery, the school athletic program this year will feature both a basketball team and a track team. At the present time he has turned his thoughts towards the organization of a basketball team.

France Wants Japs To Quit Indo-China

Seeks Aid Of U. S. In Securing Withdrawal Of Jap Troops

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—France, it was learned in responsible quarters today, wants the United States to try to get Japan to withdraw from French Indo-China as part of any general settlement in the Pacific.

Vichy has taken up the matter with the United States through diplomatic channels.

French Ambassador Gaston Henry Hove has expressed to Secretary of State Cordell Hull the hope that France's position in Indo-China will be born in mind in any general Far Eastern settlement.

The Vichy government's action aroused considerable interest in official quarters in Washington. It represents one of the few occasions since the signing of the armistices with Germany that France has felt herself in a position to seek American assistance on a major issue affecting the preservation of French territory.

Was Severe Blow
Signing of the Franco-Japanese agreement last July concerning French Indo-China came as a severe blow to this government.

Under the terms of that agreement, Japanese armed forces occupied French Indo-China and placed themselves within striking distance of Malaya, the British and Dutch East Indies and the Philippines.

The consequences of the agreement are regarded in American quarters as having precipitated the acute crisis that developed in the Pacific.

It was Japan's occupation of French Indo-China that led to the stiffening of this government's attitude toward the Nippon Empire, including the imposition of drastic economic sanctions.

France took the position that it had no other alternative but to agree to the Japanese demands at the time in view of its defeat by Germany and generally weakened state.

The attitude of this government now appears to be that Vichy should take a little less disposition to acquiesce to Axis demands if it wants the United States to help protest French interests in world affairs.

Seven cars of the Lark were derailed, including the parlor-observation car and several sleepers. The engine of the freight train was derailed.

Ambulances sped to the scene from Paso Robles and San Luis Obispo and from nearby Camp Roberts, big army reservation. Doctors and nurses from Camp Roberts treated many of the passengers for bruises and shock.

The injured woman was Mrs. Pauline Macrae, of Hayward, Cal. Extent of her injuries was not known, but she refused hospital treatment at Camp Roberts, and at her own request was taken in an ambulance to Los Angeles.

The Lark had stopped on the main line track when a taxicab with five passengers stalled in front of it at a crossing. The fast overnight merchandise train crashed into the rear of the passenger train at full speed.

The parlor-observation car was tilted over at a 45-degree angle, while the other derailed cars remained upright.

Likes Army Life More Than Best Germany Offers

Youth Who Escaped From German Citizenship Enjoys His Liberties

(International News Service)
NEW CUMBERLAND, Pa., Sept. 19—Kurt Berlin's life in the United States Army would be a lot pleasanter if he only knew whether his parents were alive and safe.

The 21-year-old Salisbury, Md., youth, who arrived at the Army reception center here Sept. 13, said that when he last heard from his mother and father they were about to be taken to a Nazi concentration camp in Germany.

That was five weeks ago. He has not had a letter since.

Kurt considers it a privilege to be able to belong to the U. S. Army. He said he had had more liberties in the few days he's been a soldier than he had in years while a resident of Munich.

He came to this county on Jan. 1, 1940, getting out of Germany after two years of effort. He had applied for emigration papers in 1938, but he was one of the thousands arrested in Munich after the notorious beer cellar explosion in November, 1939.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19—State health authorities have ordered postponement of the opening of schools until Sept. 29 in eight eastern and central counties and part of a ninth because of infantile paralysis.

Counties affected by the order are Dauphin, York, Montgomery, Cambria, Schuylkill, Lebanon, Lancaster, Northumberland, and the West Shoe area of Cumberland county.

The postponement was the third decided upon within the past month because of prevalence of the disease. The schools were to have opened next Monday.

White Grub Year Is Bad For Lawns

Dead Patches of Grass Reveal

Ravages Of Grubs Underneath Surface

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 19—

Dead patches of grass on your lawn during this particular season should remind you that this is "white grub" year.

White grubs develop throughout a three-year cycle, according to H. E. Hodgkiss, entomologist at the Pennsylvania State College. They are prevalent in Central and Western Pennsylvania but are often found in other sections of the state.

The bugs can be controlled by applications of lead arsenate, but this does not restore the dead grass. Ten pounds of this chemical per one thousand square feet of sod is sufficient to check the insects and this treatment will be effective from five to seven years.

Legion Convention Assails Communism

(International News Service) MILWAUKEE, Sept. 19.—Resolutions calling for the suppression of Communism, Nazism and Fascism were put forward today at the closing session of the American Legion's 23rd national convention Thursday afternoon.

A resolution submitted by the American Legion committee deplored Communist subversive activities in the United States and reaffirmed the Legion's demand for the deportation of Harry Bridges, Pacific Coast C.I.O. labor leader.

A report calling for outlawing of the Communist party was adopted. It stated:

"Communism cannot be dignified by recognition on the part of the several states as a true political party and must be outlawed."

Communist front, Nazi band and Fascist organizations were scored in resolution No. 94, which stated:

"Be it resolved that the American Legion request congress to enact legislation canceling ab initio, the naturalization of persons found to be engaged in subversive activities or belonging to organizations fostering subversive activities so that the aforementioned persons may be deported to the countries whence they came."

Another resolution presented by the legislative committee calling for "the equal service of capital and labor as well as for men in the armed forces" during the current national emergency was adopted after considerable discussion. The same resolution recommended that all parties to labor disputes delay strike action and "examine their responsibility to the nation in the light of common sacrifice all have to make."

A resolution approved by acclamation commended William Randolph Hearst and the Hearst newspapers "for their continued support of the true Americanism principles and doctrines for which the American Legion fights."

Eight Are Treated For Mad Dog Bites

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—Eight victims of the Overbrook-Castle Shannon-Baldwin Township district were warned today to take Pasteur treatments immediately, after tests proved conclusively that the dog that had bitten them had rabies.

The victims were notified of the results of the tests made in the West Penn hospital bacteriological clinic. A general warning was broadcast for the protection of any other person or persons whom may have been bitten also.

The dog was killed Tuesday evening after its mad tour.

AROUND CITY HALL

This city has been almost free of big robberies. Surrounding cities have been struck by hold-ups and safe robberies, according to reports. However, police eyes are being kept on certain persons... Notices to pay delinquent 1940 taxes have been sent out by City Treasurer C. C. McRiben. A penalty also must be paid... City council will continue its fight with other third class cities to secure a portion of the gasoline tax refund, the governor having vetoed the act of legislature much to council's chagrin... A most dangerous obstruction at a street intersection is a high hedge fence. Automists cannot see on-coming traffic. Because the hedges are on private property council cannot do much about the hazard.

No decision has yet been handed down in Dent Shields' claim for one-half his wages for his dependent wife. He is in naval service and claims the benefits of the Act of 1917... With Cascade park closed for the season, the restauranteur, Paul Marakas, now will be able to devote all his attention to collection of delinquent taxes. He is reportedly one of the best money-getters the city has ever employed on a percentage basis... So far Dent Shields is the only member of the police department in service of his country. However, on the rolls are several former service men.

Willie G. McMullen, chief of police, operates the bureau on a merit system. Those who best qualify win promotions.

Sees Verboten As America's Fate Unless Nazis Lose

(International News Service) CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 19.—Unless victory is won, verboten will be the lot of the Americas. Russell Wilson, former Cincinnati mayor who is chairman of the committee to Defend America, declared in a letter to President Roosevelt.

The German word verboten means forbidden. All World War veterans are familiar with the verboten signs that were tacked up on practically every place a sign could be mailed in the areas which had been occupied by the Germans before they were driven out by the Allies in 1918.

"The word is sadly too familiar to all conquered peoples in Europe today. It symbolizes the ruthless oppression of the Germans that only those who are familiar with the iron heel of German militarism can realize," Wilson stated.

The basis of Mr. Wilson's message is the placards and stickers being featured by the committee to Defend America. They were created by a volunteer in the first World War, James W. Beckman, who does not want to see the American people ever subjected to the horrors, cruelties and humiliations that the word verboten means to conquered peoples.

The cards and stickers read: "Which? V. for Victory, V. for Verboten." Verboten is printed in German type to visualize its sinister meaning.

Copies of the placard and stickers were also sent to Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the prime ministers of the dominions of the British empire.

Something New in College Circles Is Reported From Lafayette

(International News Service)

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—Lafayette college introduced something new in the musical line this year—a training camp for the institution's choir.

Before the opening of school, the group hid away to Bushkill in the Pocono Mountains, not far from the site of the football team's camp. There for a week the singers tested their throats in the mountain air.

Purpose of the training camp was to organize, read and study new music and to rehearse secular a-cappella concert pieces. The choir has become well known for concerts given in principal cities of the east and once performed in the White House.

Czech Actress To Seek Citizenship

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19.—Bombing, wounds, a narrow escape from the Nazis when they captured Paris and two unsuccessful marriages are things to be forgotten by Yola Lee Anderson, the former Countess Sen-suda de Lavaud.

American citizenship and a screen career are her ambitions.

The Czechoslovakia-born Miss Lee—the name under which she won fame as a singer and dancer in Europe—so declared in Hollywood today, following her arrival from Las Vegas.

In Las Vegas she was granted a divorce from Byron Anderson, American aircraft engineer, now in London. They were married in Portugal last January and came to America in March.

Wed to Count de Lavaud of Paris in 1934, she won her freedom from the nobleman in 1940.

Miss Lee bears scars on her legs from a Nazi bombing of a small French city near Bordeaux to which she fled from Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clingen, Margaret and Wilma, and Miss Estelle Anderson, of New Castle, were Friday evening visitors at the home of their cousin, Clyde Bowen.

That's the judgment of a leading women's college president Dr. James Madison Wood of Stephens College, Columbia, who pointed out "there is not a single authoritative and readable book on Latin America in our school rooms."

A recent survey, he reported, showed that teaching of European history overshadowing that of South American by 15 to 1 in 65,000 courses being given in schools all over the United States.

At a time when hemispheric solidarity is of major importance, he said, American school children are poring over accounts of medieval battles and European geography.

Lloyd W. Strayer, program chairman for the house warming dinner on Thursday next, at Trinity Episcopal church, reports that the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of the diocese of Erie, will attend and that S. DeGraff Pearson of New Castle will officiate as toastmaster. D. M. Arnold will lead the singing with Miss Isabel Johnson at the piano.

From all indications every seat will be taken and an opportunity will be afforded following the dinner program to inspect the improvements and the new modern additions in the kitchen.

A growing interest in Trinity Episcopal church is noted, and the "housewarming dinner" party is one of the many future events to be conducted, to further inspire the congregation and its young people to newer heights.

Guard For Bridge Asked After Fires

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19—Another fire on the Sixty-Second street bridge, near vital defense industries, resulted today in a renewed plea

by Deputy County Fire Marshal

George M. Cook that the bridge be guarded at night. He pointed out that 17 fires have occurred on the bridge since Memorial Day, and that before the industrial plants began working on national defense orders, fires occurred only once or twice in several years. Wednesday night's fire was only a minor one, but it blocked traffic for some time.

Baruch Urges Price Ceiling For Everything

Would Include Wages, Rents And Farm Prices In Measure

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Bernard M. Baruch, who headed the war industries board during World War I, today urged congress "to put a ceiling over the whole price structure including wages, rents, and farm prices."

Baruch, who appeared before the house banking and currency committee, advocated a much more drastic price control bill than that planned by the administration.

"I don't believe in piecemeal price fixing," he declared. "I don't believe that you can treat price control as a separate effort. It must be intimately tied up and move in step with all other war controls, wage and rent controls, priorities, conservation, commandeering, war trade, war finance and so forth. They are like the fingers of a hand. Without all together the job can't be done satisfactorily."

The bill drafted by the administration contains no authority for wage control, drastically limits control of rents and would permit control of farm prices at not less than 110 percent of parity.

The charter of incorporation of The Salvation Army defines the organization as a body, "designed to operate as a religious and charitable corporation in all the states and territories of the United States."

Among the purposes designated are: The spiritual, moral and physical reformation of all who need it; the reclamation of the criminal, dissolute, and degraded; visitation among the poor and lonely and sick; the preaching of the Gospel and the dissemination of Christian truth by means of open-air and indoor meetings.

Such profits as are derived from the variety of homes maintained by the Army its bureaus, institutions, and other business activities must be devoted exclusively to religious and humanitarian pursuits.

The two-fold purpose of the Army all over the world is religious and social. The men's and women's service work is carried on under the direct supervision of an officer who is answerable to the ter-

For example, a working girl's hotel can only meet local needs but a maternity home ministers to the wants of a large area.

Reports are submitted regularly to the territorial headquarters on every phase of work. In this way, the local Corps is in constant touch with its superiors and in a position to receive their counsel and guidance at all times.

At a late hour, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Erma Guy, Mrs. Ethel Melke, and Mrs. Marie Marimann, served a delicious lunch at a prettily appointed table, with a large birthday cake as centerpiece.

The guest of honor received many lovely gifts from his friends and relatives in remembrance of the occasion.

Some of the early flowering biennials, such as the fox-glove and sweet william, often seed themselves freely and a good supply of new plants may be around the base of the old ones if the soil has not been disturbed too often. These may be lifted at this time and moved to more suitable locations.

Fruits which crop prematurely are usually afflicted with insect or fungus pests. For this reason, it is wise to gather them up and destroy them rather than leave them on the ground where they may serve as a source of reinfestation next season.

Services Commencing Sunday Evening Will Continue Through Monday, Tuesday

Tifereth Israel Synagogue will observe the solemn season of Rosh Hashanah, which will be ushered in with special prayers this Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

It is the first time in many years that a well-trained choir under the guidance of Rabbi Gilbert A. Elefant, spiritual leader of the synagogue, will assist. The boys of the choir include Irvin Alpern, Joseph Kulkkin, Arthur Samuels, Darwin Slovin, Martin Schwartz and Jo-

Rabbi M. Kranes of Dayton, O., will assist by reading the services. Services on Rosh Hashanah are a solemn nature and centered around the sounding of the shofar. The shofar is an instrument of music of ancient origin and appeals to the emotions of the Jewish heart.

Prices Of Coke Ordered Frozen

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—An order freezing prices for by-products foundry coke and furnace coke at approximately current levels, effective Oct. 1, was issued today by Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

The action was taken to stabilize the iron and steel price structure. Pig iron, iron and steel scrap and semi-finished and finished iron and steel products were recently placed under price ceilings.

Current prices of the coke by-products now range from $1 to $1.25 a ton above levels of a year ago, Henderson said. The ceilings, said to have approval of the industry, set maximum prices for by-products

Railroads, Busses And Shipping Given Babson's Consideration

(By ROGER W. BABSON)
(Copyright—1941—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 19.—There will be no railroad strike! The railroad employees of the United States have asked for a 30 per cent increase with the hope of getting a 15 per cent increase. The general impression is that this increase will be 10 per cent. Employees are entitled to this increase for the duration of the war but, coupled with such an increase, arrangements should now be included for an automatic readjustment after the war is over.

BABSON

Bearish on Railroads
Railroad earnings have always been a feast or famine. Just now they are a feast; but after World War II they will again suffer from a famine. Not only will they suffer from the general decline in business, but also from the fleets of airplanes and miles of pipe lines being constructed. Furthermore, railroads' rates are largely fixed and hard to get increased; while their expenses are constantly increasing.

When I was Assistant to the Secretary of Labor, it was very evident that, however prosperous the railroads might become, organized labor would skim the cream. I still am of the same opinion because of the 1,000,000 railroad employees complete organization and also because the annual income of most of these employees is rather low. This last is due to the fact that the railroad industry, fundamentally, is running astern. As wages are increased, freight rates must be raised and then business falls off. It's truly a vicious circle.

Freight vs. Passenger Traffic

The freight traffic of the country has been sacrificed to the passenger business which is unprofitable to nearly all the railroads. I think that ultimately we shall have to come to the Prince Plan, and perhaps go even a step further. Efficiency may demand having the trunk lines and terminals leased by the government and all railroads operate over the same on a train-mile basis. This saving would be so large that wages could be increased, the rates could be reduced, and, at the same time, railroad bonds would have greater value.

Diesel engines and streamlined trains will not solve the railroads' problems. If the railroads could lose all the passenger business it would be a great blessing. Unfortunately, they will lose only enough to make them operate at a loss. Commercial passenger airplanes will be so common after World War II that they will get the high-class passenger business while the busses will get the low bracket business. I had much rather today buy the securities of the reorganized traction companies of our larger cities than any railroad securities. Certainly, airplanes cannot compete with city transportation systems!

What About Shipping Securities?

Admittedly, these are a gamble. I think the shipbuilding companies have a better future than the carbuilding and locomotive companies. Water transportation is the cheapest form of transportation. Shipping appears to be a long-pull industry, however successful ocean airplane "clippers" may be. When it comes to buying the stocks of operating shipping lines, I'm not so bullish. They suffer greatly from labor and other troubles. Besides we do not know how much the government obligations, which the shipping companies are now receiving for their command-need ships, will be worth after World War II.

There is a paradox in connection with this shipping situation. As good citizens, we are praying that the sinking of allied ships will be stopped; but if so, this may create a surplus of ships after the war. At the present time one new ship is being launched for each two old ones that are being sunk; but in 1942 about 100 new ships should be launched every quarter. At an average tonnage of 10,000 tons this would mean about 1,000,000 new tons per quarter. This is about the rate at which the allied sinkings are now taking place. These sinkings, however, should materially be cut down as airplane scouting is further developed. As to airplane securities as an investment, I will write next week.

Companies to Avoid

Transportation is a fundamental industry but its form is constantly changing—from ox-cart to stagecoach from stagecoach to railroad, from railroad to trucks and busses, and hence to airplanes, later some entirely new form will develop. The tendency, however, has always been for the owners of each of these forms of transportation to stick their heads in the sand and refuse to acknowledge changing conditions. True security for management, stockholders, and employees comes, not through pig-headedness, but through the recognition that change and evolution are the normal course of life. Any transportation company which is being run by a management or group of employees who are thinking mainly of themselves and ignoring fundamental changes is destined to be a poor investment.

The same principle applies to other industries, including manufacturing and banking. Conservative interests are today applauding a certain New Jersey bank for liquidating because of government and other handicaps. I condemn such a liquidation as a cowardly policy. Banks which are willing to adapt themselves to new conditions have a good future. Certainly, our forefathers were not afraid of any handicaps. They did not need to face government restrictions, but they faced Indian tomahawks, severe starvation, and fatal epidemics. Security comes only through activity, co-operation, change, and courage. As Jesus—thats great economist of 2,000 years ago—told the industrialists of Jerusalem—we save our lives and property only by being willing to lose such and share such.

Final Test

The bus and truck companies are—as a rule—being operated by their owners. To a large extent this also applies to shipping. The railroads, however, are being run by lawyers, bankers, and others who have very little financial ownership in their companies. These management may be as much of a self-perpetuating "closed shop" as are the labor unions. I prefer to invest in companies in which the officers have a large stake.

TO BE CITY-W.P.A. JOB

Council today stated that a petition asking for the paving of a 90-foot stretch of Cascade street between Croton avenue and East Brook street had been received. It was added that when it is possible to improve the short stretch it will be a city-W.P.A. project.

Army Nurse Corps Calls For 10,000

More than 10,000 nurses are needed for the Army Nurse Corps, the War department announced today. The surgeon general of the Army, Major General James C. Magee, said 5,973 nurses are now on duty but to meet the authorized quota, 2,264 more are needed. This figure includes 526 additional Regular Army nurses and 1,738 Reserve nurses. An additional 4,000 Reserve nurses will be needed to care for trainees to be inducted into the Army this year.

The Army Nurse Corps anticipates that 40 per cent of Reserve nurses who had accepted one year's assignment will request discharge at the expiration of their 12 months' service.

Need Women In War Industries In British Isles

Potential War Workers May Be Withdrawn From Non-Productive Activities

RATIONING IDEA IS PROMULGATED

By LOWELL BENNETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The demand for war-workers in Britain is becoming so heavy that a scheme for the "rationing of women" is under consideration.

Women are to be withdrawn from all non-essential industries; domestic servants are to be interviewed to find if their occupation in this work is necessary; and older women are to replace young shop-assistants and clerks.

British women from the age of 19 to 25 have already been called into either the women's auxiliary military units, or placed in vital war industry. The 26's are to be called shortly.

For many months, now, there has been an acute shortage of manpower in Britain. More than 5,000,000 men have been called into the army, navy or air force since the beginning of the war. War industries, expanding government departments have taken hundreds of thousands more, with the result that Britain is forced to rely more and more on its "woman power," if she is to continue to expand her war effort.

Shortage In Midlands

Especially in the Midlands, where so much of British war industry is concentrated, is there a labor shortage. Yet, in that area there is less than half-of-one-per cent unemployment. It is expected that a system of "regional registration" will be put into effect—a system that will call up every woman to the age of 40—married or single.

Examples are very numerous of boys of 14 and 15 doing a man's job—and of men between the ages of 70 and 80 holding vital positions. Surprisingly enough, the latest unemployment figures reveal that 277,280 persons are still without work. This figure does indicate a drop of 24,658 during the past month, yet seems incongruous with the recent government demands upon people already gainfully employed.

Check On Servants

In its effort to withdraw potential war-workers from all non-productive activities, the government is planning a form questionnaire to be sent to all employers of servants. The householder will have to satisfy the ministry of labor that the servants are necessary, otherwise, he will have to give them up.

"Under parlormaid wanted, country house near London. Four in family; nine maids kept."

Advertisements such as this have caused many questions to be raised. How families are able to employ nine maids when plants, factories, farms are in desperate need of all the help they can get is quite beyond the average Londoner.

Now, however, it is hoped that all this will be stopped; that householders will be allowed to employ only the number of servants they really need. Thousands will thus be released for more important work.

London's large department stores are cooperating in this drive for more war-workers. They are releasing as many of their younger clerks, salesgirls, and secretaries as possible; and in their place hiring older women. This too will make thousands more available for the war effort.

Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin has announced that a comb out of all so-called "luxury industries" will take place shortly. Committees have been formed to decide just what is a "vital industry" and what is a "luxury industry."

National Labor Pool

A national labor pool is also being formed throughout the country. This will make workers in less skilled occupations available for transfer to whatever part of the country they are most needed. Women, to, are being asked to register—if only for part time work—and to declare whether they would be available for possible employment in some other part of the country.

It is not a case of a change from the slogan "TO ARMS" to "TO WORK"—rather a realization of the vital necessity of both calls in an all-out war.

Grill Assailant In Pittsburgh Case

Man Held For Attacks In Central Pennsylvania Quizzed In Pittsburgh Slaying

(International News Service)
LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Sept. 19.—Clinton county authorities said today they know of no apparent connection between Hoy K. Houck, 21, confessed assailant of eight central Pennsylvania women, and the slaying of Rose Haber in Pittsburgh last July.

Houck, former Bellefonte band leader, was grilled by Pittsburgh detectives in the county jail this week concerning his activities in Pittsburgh, where he is said to have done electrical work.

The suspect is awaiting trial next month on charges of having attacked Ruth Andrews, 19, and Emily Williams, 26, Jersey Shore school teacher. Meantime, state motor police field charges in Bellefonte against Houck, five attacks on young women in Centre county and assault with attempt to kill Mrs. Ernest Teichert, wife of a Pennsylvania State College professor.

NEW CASTLE AND FARRELL PLAY HERE TONIGHT

LOCAL TEAMS SET FOR GRID SAFARI

Their football guns loaded, Lawrence County's 1941 grid fortune hunters are optimistic about their chances of scoring all bullseyes during their week-end safari on the gridiron.

Despite the fact that the swine-hog caravan is just commencing to edge into the sports frame, local teams meet an exceedingly imposing array of opponents tonight and Saturday.

The main battle is slated for Taggart stadium tonight where Farrell and New Castle high skip across the lines in one of the key frays in the district. The opening "end over end" boot-sails into the sky at 8 o'clock.

Munhall At Ellwood

Munhall high, a top ranking aggregation in Pittsburgh, lines up against Ellwood City, at Ellwood City tonight. The Wolverines displayed lots of elation in disposing of Union Township. Munhall got off on the wrong side, losing a 7-0 verdict.

Saturday afternoon's spotlight will be focused directly on Bessemer where Bessemer high opens another football season, meeting Hubbard O. high. The game starts at 2:30 o'clock.

Bessemer is in top shape following a two weeks' rehearsal period. Even with a comparatively light and green aggregation, followers of the red and black clad horde foresee a successful season.

Coach A. G. Capezzuti, who has molded together a series of powerhouses, today hinted that his starting-lineup may be as follows:

List and Pishonieri in the end berths; Gatto and Novak in the tackle trenches; Simari and Donofrio in the guard stations and Krescovich at center; Navarro will call signals from the quarterback slot; Grubba and Gallo will get the half-back nod and Miller the fullback.

Hubbard is expected to present its customary strong lineup. A large crowd is expected to watch the rivals.

Hunt High Scorer On Veteran's Range

V. F. W. Marksman Makes 94 Out Of Possible 100 In Recent Shoot

Neshannock post's rifle club bids fair to make other rifle teams in the district step some for honors during the coming winter.

On a recent practice shoot on the post's indoor range, George Hunt led the pack with a 94 out of a possible 100, while Mike Sopkovich stood second with 93. Ed. Park scored 92, George Christoph, 91; and Roy Jones and Sam Cavello, 90, each.

Ed. Park, chairman of the rifle committee announces that shoots will be held every Saturday evening until further notice.

ALMOST PERFECT

BROOKLYN—Jack Kraus, an elongated pitcher acquired by the Brooklyn Dodgers from Durham's Bulls, almost cracked a perfect game this season. He turned in a no-hit game against Greensboro, missing a perfect contest by passing a batter in the second frame. He turned in another no-hitter in the Evangeline league back in 1937.

and Adams, will give the New Castle team plenty of trouble.

Farrell Facing Jinx

Farrell High comes to Pa. New's domain tonight sporting a 12-game winning streak. Can they hurdle that "13" business? Farrell has not lost a game since the end of 1939 when Oil City upset them. Last year Farrell won undefeated and has won one game so far this season. Nothing would please the Farrellites more than a victory over the mighty "Red Hurricane". They will fight toward that end.

A Hank Day coached team has not beaten New Castle High for ten years. The last time was back in 1931 when Washington High hung a 27 to 0 defeat on the "Red Hurricane".

New Castle Ready

New Castle High's eleven is going to put forth its best effort to see that the Farrell victory string is broken. All week long Coaches Bridenbaugh, Kie Thomas and Cuba have been drilling the varsity on how to break up the Farrell plays. Cuba scouted the Farrell Steelers last Friday night and came home with the report that New Castle had better be prepared for its toughest game in many years.

The locals have been drilled all week long, too, on breaking up forward passes. Farrell, according to Cuba, has very clever pass team in Baseline and Rupert. General Lee will be the boy that the "Red Hurricane" will depend on to throw the passes where the enemy isn't.

Bands Will Liven Game

In the event of good weather the biggest crowd of the season to date will no doubt see this classic. Interest in both towns is at fever heat. Farrell will send over 1,000 fans and students here for the nocturnal affair. The gates will open at 7 o'clock. The student gate at 6:30 o'clock. The student gate at 6:30 o'clock.

The New Castle High band of 100 pieces will be on hand to liven up the occasion. Farrell will send its fine band. There will be plenty of music and excitement always attendant at every grid contest. We'll be seeing you.

Louisville Will Battle Columbus

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 19.—The Louisville Colonels tonight invade the lair of the Columbus Red Birds for the first game of the finals of the American Association governor's cup playoffs.

It's a four-out-of-seven-games series, with the winner capturing the right to meet the International League standard bearer in the little world series. Louisville, which finished the regular season in second place behind the pennant-winning flock, clinched its spot in the finals yesterday by taking the sixth game of the first-round series from Minneapolis, 7-to-1. Columbus disposed of third-place Kansas City, also four games to two, five days ago.

GOPHERS LEAVE EARLY

ALBRIGHT LOOKS FOR BETTER YEAR

(International News Service)
READING, Pa., Sept. 19.—Back practicing in the college stadium after the infantile paralysis outbreak forced them to abandon Camp Greble in an afflicted area of Lebanon county, the Albright Lions today are virtually sure bets to better last season's grid record of four wins, five lost.

Although the squad is the smallest Coach William (Lone Star) Dietz has had in five years, it is expected to offer the makings of a more formidable eleven because of its experience.

Geneva Gridders Tie Youngstown

District Rivals Play 0-0 Deadlock Before 11,000 Excited Fans

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 19.—Before 11,000 excited fans, Youngstown college and Geneva opened the 1941 grid season by playing a 0-0 deadlock Thursday night.

Both aggregations muffed scoring chances. The Ohioans lugged the ball to the Geneva three, where the Covies' front trench thwarted the rally. Geneva marched to the Ohio 12 in the final minutes, but Ohio 12 mustered enough power to cross fertile soil.

BOBBY FELLER
WINS HIS 24TH

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—By nightfall today the St. Louis Cardinals can be just one-half game behind the Brooklyn Dodgers in that sizing National League pennant race, or they can be 1½ games behind.

Trailing by one game, the Cardinals meet the Chicago Cubs while the Dodgers idle with a one-game lead.

The Cards missed their chance yesterday to advance, when the Dodgers blew a tough one to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5. The Cards lost to the Boston Braves,
4 to 1.

Frank Demaree's three-run homer was the big blow in the Braves' victory over the Cards as Mort Cooper went to defeat.

Feller Wins 24th

Chicago climbed over the New York Giants into fifth place in the National League standings with a 7 to 1 victory over the same Giants.

The Cincinnati Reds took two from the Philadelphia Phillies, 5 to 0 and 9 to 2, Ray Starr administering the shutout.

In the American League two games were played, the highlight being Bob Feller's 24th victory for the Cleveland Indians against the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 1, snapping the Red Sox victory string at eight games.

Washington beat St. Louis, 9 to 8.
